

Governor Says Walker Still on Water Committee

BOISE, March 3 (UPI)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie said today State Democratic Party Chairman Lloyd Walker is still a member of his water committee. Walker said at the Democratic Jefferson-Jackson day dinner at Pocatello Saturday he would not serve on the 31-member committee. "Mr. Walker could make a very worthwhile contribution," Smylie said. "I don't believe very many members of his party share his views." Walker was not available for comment this morning on Smylie's remarks. But he had said earlier he declined to serve because the Democratic party as such "must remain free to support those proposals which are meritorious." He also reminded the governor of his public position as chairman of the state's Democrats.

Volcano Blast

SANTIAGO, Chile, March 3 (AP)—An Andean volcano was reported today to have erupted and triggered avalanches that destroyed the little town of Conarpe and threatened a 60-mile area of southern Chile containing 20,000 persons.

Schools in Two Areas Are Opened

School was back in session Tuesday at both Richfield and Shoshone and highway crews completed opening roads Monday after a heavy snowfall in both areas, accompanied by high wind, on Sunday.

It was clear and sunny throughout Magic Valley Tuesday. At Richfield one school bus was about one-half hour late after it slid into a snowbank 1 1/2 miles northwest of town near the J. O. Freeman ranch. Freeman used a tractor to assist La-Rae Brown, the bus driver. Clifford Conner, Richfield rural mail carrier, was using a pickup truck Tuesday to deliver mail after the axle on his International Scout truck was broken. Conner was unable to deliver mail after the axle broke about six and one-half miles north of Richfield as Conner was trying to reach the Freeman brothers ranch. Conner reported he was unable to make any of the northeast or See SCHOOLS, Page 2, Col 5

Judge Chase Clark Plans Retirement

BOISE, March 3 (UPI)—U. S. District Judge Chase Addison Clark, a leading public figure in Idaho for more than 60 years and a former governor, announced today his retirement from the federal bench "at the pleasure of the President." "I've had a hard time arriving at this decision but I am compelled to recognize that I am past 80 years of age and have been subject to retirement for the past 10 years," Clark said. "I am also mindful of the fact that the state legislature, at the request of the bar association, has fixed the age of retirement for state judges at 70 years and it may be that I have been wrong in continuing on," he said.

British Pilot Attempted Fog Landing

INNSBRUCK, Austria, March 3 (UPI)—The commission investigating the Alpine crash of a British pilot that killed 20 persons Saturday said today the pilot tried to land without instruments in weather conditions that made such a landing impossible.

The commission, in a preliminary report issued at Vienna, said there was no indication of any technical failure.

But it said that Edward Williams, pilot of the Bristol Britannia which crashed near Innsbruck, tried to land in foggy, cloudy weather without navigational aids.

The report said Innsbruck airport had no radar or other landing aids and must be approached visually.

Meanwhile, Austrian mountain police continued their search for more bodies buried in the plane wreckage.

Sun Valley Manager Denies That Resort Has Been Sold

SUN VALLEY, March 3—Reports that Sun Valley has been sold drew another denial today from Winston McCrea, who manages the famed resort.

Rumors that Sun Valley had been sold or is about to be sold have been prevalent for a long time. Periodically, the rumors acquire the appearance of "fact," some residents of the area declaring it's "absolutely true" and that the Union Pacific railroad has wanted to "get rid of" Sun Valley for years.

Workers Begin Grim Task of Identifying Air Crash Victims

MINDEN, Nev., March 3 (AP)—Workers began the grim task today of recovering and identifying 85 Lake Tahoe plane crash victims as this tiny western Nevada town opened its doors and kitchens to relatives of the dead. The 81 passengers and four crew members died Sunday in the crash of a Paradise Airways Constellation against a lofty, snow-covered peak on a flight scheduled from San Jose, Calif., to the gambling and winter sports center on the south shore of Lake Tahoe.

The path for recovery operations was cleared by a bulldozer and crew which followed an old logging road, then pushed through rocks and snow to the crash site.

Relatives and friends of the victims thronged into Minden, a Basque-German town of 550 residents located six miles east of the crash site and seven miles south of Carson City, the state capital.

The fire station became an information center; the Carson Valley Improvement club became a morgue and Douglas county courthouse became headquarters for recovery posses.

While the bodies were carried out, federal aviation agency and civil aeronautics board investigators were to examine the crash scene in an attempt to learn why the plane crashed.

The victims, all Californians and mostly from the Salinas and San Jose areas, were headed for a day at Nevada gambling casinos when the plane was caught in a blinding snowstorm.

Pilot Henry Norris, 43, took his plane to the north end of the 6,228-foot-high lake for a routine approach to Lake Tahoe Airport. He radioed at 11:29 a.m. Sunday that he had spotted the lake through a break in the storm and was over the last approach marker to the airport. Two minutes later he began a message, "Eighty 901—Nothing more was heard."

Air and ground searches, hampered Sunday by the snowstorm, did not find the plane until 7:30 a.m. Monday when it was spotted on a ridge near the south end and several miles east of the lake.

Controversy Swirls Around Harding, Idaho Paper Asks Him to Apologize

BOISE, March 3 (UPI)—Controversy continued to swirl around Rep. Ralph Harding, D. Idaho, today with a demand by the Idaho Daily Statesman, that he apologize publicly for what it described as a "slandering attack" on political writer John Corlett.

The newspaper, in an editorial, said that Harding last Saturday at Pocatello referred to Corlett as "John Corlett representing the Idaho Power company."

Cyprus Expected To Okay Peace Force for Island

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 3 (AP)—Cyprus was expected to give its approval today to a new small-nation proposal authorizing U. N. Secretary-General U. Thant to send an international peace force to the Mediterranean island. The compromise formula, worked out by five of the six elected members of the U. N. security council, was presented to the 11-nation council Monday by Brazilian delegate Carlos Alfredo Bernardes.

School Budget Lists Levy Cut, Pay Hike

The Twin Falls school board passed the proposed budget for the school year 1964-65 at a special board meeting Monday night. The budget for the 1964-65 school year, prepared by Supt. Ernest Regland, provides for an increase in the teaching salaries and a decrease in school taxes. The budget totals $2,324,148.80.

The new budget is based on a 4 1/2-mill levy, while the current budget was based on a 4 1/2-mill levy. The levy breakdown is, general fund, 31 mills; bond and interest 11.5 mills, a decrease of one mill from 12.5 mills in the previous budget, and plant and facilities, two mills.

Regland said one thing that permitted the increase in teachers' salaries and the decrease in taxes is careful planning of expenditures for the past two or three years by the school board.

The teachers' salaries were increased by $300 for master's degree, $275 for five years training, $250 for bachelor's degree, 200 for three years training, and $150 for two years training.

No Protests Made On '64 City Budget

No protests were made Monday night at a public hearing on the proposed 1964 budget for the city of Twin Falls. Acting Chairman Robert Warberg opened the public meeting at 7:47 and closed it some 45 seconds later. After the formality was over, the Twin Falls city commission passed three successive ordinances levying taxes, appropriating funds and setting salaries under suspension of the rules. Total tax levy in the city will be 52 mills.

Some 30 mills will be levied for the general fund operation and some 22 mills will be levied for special funds such as sprinkling, flushing and oiling, and the library fund. The levies are the same as last year. The city will collect an estimated $722,436 from the levy and has budgeted some $1,532,265 for expenditures in 1964. The difference between the money received from the levy and the total to spend is what the city will collect from services rendered to the public.

A transfer of funds and the necessity of keeping certain funds earmarked for special purposes makes the proposed budget actually $2,060,281, said the city treasurer, Mrs. Constance Leiser. In other city business the commission rejected an application from Leiser to establish a service at the city's airport. The commission felt facilities at the airport were crowded and the city is amply served by other systems.

Sam Highsmith, representing the system, said it offered a reduced rate and had an agreement with West Coast airlines. He said that a letter of application with a check had been mailed to the city, but neither the city treasurer nor the airport manager could recall the check or the letter.

The lease for the city ballpark was approved and renewed for $500 or its equivalent in improvements. The city reserved the right to use the park for other public functions.

The commission has authorized the sale of some unclaimed bicycles and two unclaimed cars. The sale will be held 10 a.m. March 23 at the city parking lot.

The city commission also voted to accept some $5,070 in federal money granted in the sewage abatement program and approved leases for the golf course clubhouse and the U.S. air force office space at the airport. Both were renewals.

The problem of a house trailer at Frontier field was returned to the committee and passed on to the planning and zoning commission. The zone is residential light and doesn't provide for trailers. However, there will be See BUDGET, Page 2, Col. 6

Prices Climb

WASHINGTON, March 3 (UPI)—The cost of living edged up once again in January to a record-high, the government reported today in a statistical version of the labor department's consumer price index.

The department said costs of food pushed up the new index to 107.7 per cent of average 1957-59 prices. This was a rise of one-tenth of 1 per cent over the old index for December.

The new index, reflecting price changes for more than 400 goods and services purchased by the family of the average city worker, was published for the first time today.

It showed sharply higher prices for fresh vegetables and eggs in January. Coffee, sugar and candy also were higher than in December.

Prices for many other goods and services were lower than in December. The index for housing, which includes rent, was down 0.1 per cent from December. The index for transportation, which includes car and truck repairs, was down 0.2 per cent from December.

Hall of Fame Event Tickets Are on Sale

Death Takes Mrs. Lanting At Age of 78

Mrs. Grace Lanting, 78, 619 Second avenue north, died Monday afternoon in Magic Valley Memorial hospital of a short illness.

She was born July 28, 1885, at Leekkerkerby, Holland, and was married to John Lanting Jan. 24, 1917, at Pella, Ia. They moved to the Rogerson area in 1917 and farmed there until 1953 when they moved to Twin Falls. She was a charter member of the Salmon tract homesteaders and a member of the Hollister Community Presbyterian church.

Surviving, besides her husband, are three sons, State Rep. William J. Lanting and Cornelius M. Lanting, both Hollister, and Peter W. Lanting, Quincy, Wash.; five daughters, Mrs. Jack (Anita) Budden and Mrs. Paul (Adriana) Kunkel, both Twin Falls; Mrs. D. (Abeldena) Orcko, Westfield, N. J.; Mrs. Al (Nella) Byrne, Seattle, and Mrs. Fred (Cleo) Voskie, Los Angeles; 24 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. One son, Jacob Luke Lanting, preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in Berg's Twin Falls mortuary chapel by the Rev. H. B. Thomas, Hollister Community Presbyterian church. Final rites will be conducted at Sunset Memorial park.

The family suggests donations be made to the Hollister Community Presbyterian church memorial fund. Contributions are being accepted at the mortuary from 5 p.m. Wednesday until time of services Thursday.

Midwestern Cattlemen

Rap Quotas

SHENANDOAH, Ia., March 3 (AP)—Five thousand Midwestern cattlemen have called on congressmen to help them out by putting the brakes on beef imports.

Meeting here Monday, they asked that imports be trimmed to 1960 levels to counteract falling prices.

In the meeting called by a group of southwest Iowa farmers, the crowd shouted and applauded the approval of a proposed probe of retail meat prices.

More formally, it approved a resolution recommending the cattle industry itself undertake more orderly marketing and production.

Speakers recounted that in 15 months live beef prices have fallen from about $30 a hundredweight to about $20. During the same time imports have hit new records.

But George Mehren, assistant U. S. secretary of agriculture, said a big part of the trouble is the massive increase in meat supplies generally and in poultry.

William E. Colwell, Hay Springs, Neb., rancher who is a member of the national agricultural advisory commission, said the supply of domestically produced meat has increased by roughly the same amount as imported meat.

Mehren defended recent agreements with Australia and New Zealand as a way of buying time while other solutions were sought.

The two nations agreed to cut exports to the United States, but feeders have assailed the agreements as inadequate.

Mehren has been signed with Ireland. A previous announcement of this in Washington had been described as premature.

Australia and New Zealand are the No. 1 and 2 exporters of beef to this country. Ireland is fourth.

T.F. Democratic Committee Sets Hootenanny

Twin Falls Democratic central committee will sponsor a hootenanny and old time dance at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in the Moose hall.

Speeches by anyone will be made. The public is invited to attend the activities.

Library Fund Nears 2 Million

BOSTON, March 3 (AP)—The John F. Kennedy Memorial library fund is nearing 2 million dollars.

The New England Merchants national bank said Monday the total is $1,960,643.21, up $952,091 since Feb. 15.

The bank, which is administering the fund for the 10-million dollar library to be built on the Harvard campus, said the public contributed 1.2 million dollars during February.

Rocky Has New Plan for Succession

ALBANY, N.Y., March 3 (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, campaigning hard for the GOP presidential nomination, has made known his plan for determining succession in the presidency.

The New York governor proposed a cabinet level "first secretary of government" be appointed to stand after the vice president in the line of presidential succession.

The proposal would eliminate House Speaker John McCormack, 72, and Senate President Pro Tempore Carl Hayden, 86, from succession. Rockefeller said the proposal did not reflect the ability or competence of either man.

The presidential succession proposal was made in letters last week to President Johnson and Sen. Birch E. Bayh, Jr., D., Ind., chairman of a senate subcommittee on constitutional amendments.

"In my view," Rockefeller said, "the present succession statute, enacted in 1947, does not adequately cope with the nation's needs at a time of international crisis and tension when the 'hot line' to Moscow might have to be used on short notice by the nation's chief executive."

Rockefeller also said procedures were needed to determine the inability of a president. He said in case of disagreement between the president and the person next in line an arbitrator possibly the chief justice of the United States, should be established.

Still Sugar

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 3 (AP)—Plans are being made to donate sugar confiscated during mobbing raids to "Operation Sugar Lump," an anti-polio drive beginning March 8.

The sheriff's office says bulk sugar found around illegal stills will be swapped to various restaurants for lumps of sugar used in administering Sabin oral vaccine.

Police drive sponsors estimate the free sugar will lower the cost of administering the vaccine by about $2,000.

Rockefeller said the first secretary concept was developed by former President Eisenhower with his committee on government reorganization. Rockefeller was chairman of the committee.

The first secretary, to be appointed by the president with advice and consent of the senate, would follow the vice president in the line of succession. Next in line would be the cabinet members as listed in the present statute.

Russ Purchases Of U.S. Wheat Quietly Ending

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—Soviet purchases of United States wheat have quietly ended because the Soviet Union has decided it has enough grain, the New York Times said today.

American wheat traders in Moscow have been told that the Soviet Union does not plan to buy more wheat at this time from the United States, "or any one else for that matter," the story added.

Two sales of U.S. wheat to Russia totaling about $155 million dollars worth have been reported. The Soviet Union has bought wheat from other Western nations also since last summer because of crop failures.

Big Fight Pending Over Lands

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE, March 3 (AP)—A first-class fight appears to be shaping up between the state and federal governments over proposed exchange of lands for north Idaho's Dworshak dam and reservoir.

While the Bureau of Land Management has said it would accept for trade a few of the lands the state wants in exchange for Clearwater and the reservoir area, the BLM is expected to reject most of the swaps suggested by Idaho.

The army corps of engineers needs about 8,000 acres of state-owned land for its projected Dworshak dam project on the Clearwater river.

At first, the federal government proposed outright purchase of the state land, several members of the state land board, however, balked at that idea. They said they felt the public school endowment funds in the long range would suffer.

Instead, they proposed trading the state lands for federally owned land outside the reservoir. After considerable discussion over a period of several months it was decided such a swap might be made for BLM acreage under the Taylor grazing act.

The state land department made up a list of lands near some of its other holdings in the Clearwater basin lands it felt would be comparable to the timberlands the state would be losing.

But so far the state and federal agencies have been unable to come to agreement on the lands to be traded. Informed sources say the BLM has complained that the state list would hamper effective management of the BLM's other land in the Clearwater basin.

State land personnel disagree. Their maps indicate that the state's holdings in the area are much the larger and that except for one or two holdings, the BLM lands are so scattered they would not naturally fall into large management units.

There was a time when the two agencies appeared to near agreement. But, suddenly, usually reliable sources said, the BLM changed its mind.

At that time, there were indications the change of mind was ordered by interior department officials in Washington, D.C. Since there, however, BLM officials in Idaho have denied they had such orders.

Newsden were not present at the meeting where the change was reported and the BLM has told state officials it wants no publicity on the land swap talks.

Another meeting between the state and the BLM negotiators may be held this week. It is uncertain at this point whether newsden will be allowed to attend.

There are indications, however, that the proposed land exchange is bogging down and that Idaho may turn to its congressmen delegation to pour oil on the heat.

Rep. Crompton J. White Jr. has indicated he will retaliate against interior department legislation unless the federal agency agrees to what Idaho considers an equitable trade.

White is only a freshman congressman but he is a member of the interior committee.

What puzzles some observers is the fact that an Idahoan, John Carver, Jr., is an assistant secretary of the interior department. They're asking whether Carver has interceded in Idaho's behalf—and, if not, why not.

While they recognize Carver's job requires him to look out for the best interests of the whole country they also note his boss, Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, is not friendly to his own home state of Arizona.

What puzzles some observers is the fact that an Idahoan, John Carver, Jr., is an assistant secretary of the interior department. They're asking whether Carver has interceded in Idaho's behalf—and, if not, why not.

While they recognize Carver's job requires him to look out for the best interests of the whole country they also note his boss, Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, is not friendly to his own home state of Arizona.

Traits Missing

A drive appears to be taking shape to assure the Democratic vice-presidential bid for a member of the Kennedy family. Those who have been mentioned specifically are Bobby Kennedy and Sargent Shriver, both already heading top government agencies. Several Washington columnists have commented on the situation, particularly as it applies to Bobby Kennedy. There have been reports Bobby has mapped a campaign just as intensive and thorough as the one that resulted in the election of John F. Kennedy as President.

There's one major difference. At least half of Bobby's efforts now are directed toward convincing Lyndon B. Johnson, and only Mr. Johnson, that Bobby's is indispensable to this year's elections. The final word on a running mate will be Mr. Johnson's. It also has been pointed out that President Johnson's own bid for the presidential nomination four years ago was beaten largely through the efforts of Bobby Kennedy.

Four years ago Bobby Kennedy was general of the forces that won the nomination and election of his brother. During his presidency, it was well known John F. Kennedy placed a good deal of faith in the counsel of his brother, the attorney general. Yet the service to President Kennedy does not mean Bobby will prove indispensable to President Johnson or even that he will continue in office as attorney general. If President Johnson is elected to office on his own merits and after his own campaign, the official family might change quickly.

President Johnson has shown down through the years that he's an astute politician. He also has shown he knows how to deal with those who oppose him or try to out-manuever him politically. He's not likely to be fooled by an intensive campaign aimed at convincing both the President and the Democratic party that Bobby Kennedy is the proper choice for a running mate. And he's not likely to forget what happened four years ago.

President Johnson must be aware that the popularity of President Kennedy was something special for the late President. He must be aware that the public was reacting to "too much family." And it's no particular secret that other members of the Kennedy family were not equally blessed with the poise and gracious manner of President John F. Kennedy.

Bobby Kennedy, in particular, reaped criticism for some of his actions and behavior. Not the least were the parties at which guests plunged fully clothed into the swimming pool. His action, both personally and as attorney general, on behalf of civil rights didn't add to his popularity in the South.

In spite of the campaign, President Johnson is going to make up his own mind about a vice-presidential candidate. And don't be too surprised if his running mate isn't a member of the Kennedy family. What with the tax cut and all, President Johnson might conclude such support isn't needed.

BLACK MARK

Violence that has accompanied a strike against Florida East Coast railway constitutes a black mark against the nation. President Johnson was fully justified in ordering the federal bureau of investigation to use all its ability and powers to end the dynamiting of trains. It seems almost a miracle that no one has been killed in the several blasts that have wrecked moving trains with accompanying heavy damage to property.

Spokesmen for 11 non-operating unions involved in a strike against Florida East Coast since Jan. 23, 1963, have said repeatedly the unions aren't involved. The unions have appealed to their members to help bring an end to waves of sabotage, defacement and vandalism, all to no avail.

With the full powers of the FBI devoted to finding the person or persons responsible for the dynamiting, it should not take long to end what amounts to terrorism.

In his order to the FBI to bring the violence to an end, President Johnson declared, "... we don't settle matters in this way in this country."

No other reason is needed. Everyone can hope that the days of violence in settling labor-management disputes are behind. They serve no useful purpose, particularly when legal, peaceful means are provided by law to settle such disputes. In the strike against Florida East Coast, leaders of the 11 striking unions are well aware that violence serves no purpose. In fact, union leaders know their organizations are suspect and will be hurt so long as the wave of terrorism continues. More than anyone else, they are eager to end the dynamiting.

Such sabotage reflects on the entire nation.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, March 3—Possibly the cynics are right when they sneer that Mike Mansfield is not tough enough to steer the civil rights bill through the senate. The majority leader, often called "the gentle giant," seems to be running a "nice guy" campaign of Cap-tilt, and the "nice" guys are frequently trampled underfoot.

But I wonder if the tough guys are not overlooking a Mansfield quality that could be vitally important to the country in the current bloodletting. This is a quality called statesmanship. It is a term seldom used these days, but Mansfield just might force the historians of the press to disinter it.

WANTS VOTE—Mike Mansfield has taken a stand that must reflect the impatient feelings of most average citizens, in both the North and the South. It is that the time has come for the senate to act on the bill to dispose of it one way or another. As majority leader, Mansfield wants the bill to be passed, of course, but he does not emphasize that wish. Instead, he has pleaded that it be brought to a vote after proper debate, so that each senator may cast his ballot according to his own conscience.

In making this plea, Mansfield is asking only that the senate behave as a legislature should behave in a republic, by discussing and then expressing its sentiment on a vital national issue.

RIGHTS TO A DECISION—There is a lot of talk these days about the rights of Negroes. The right that is unchallenged is the right to have congress act on legislation concerning their other rights. Civil rights have been swept under the rug for too long; the Negro—and the South—segregationist—has a right to a decision. Both the Negro and the Southerner have a right to know where they stand in the eyes of the law.

Mike Mansfield is so right when he says that "There is no political profit in this issue." The Southern senator, carrying the banner of his segregationist constituents, will win only transient advantage, for his obstructionism could lead to renewed violence, to a kind of civil war that will rend the country in two. The Northern liberal, wishing for too much too soon, could drive the South back into its intransigence of reconstruction days.

COMPROMISE NECESSARY—As of now, it seems unlikely the bill as passed by the house can get through the senate. Seven of its 11 provisions are controversial, and there are not enough votes to invoke cloture against a Southern filibuster. At this point, both sides should be prepared to make compromises that may be necessary to enact a bill which will assure the Negro that his drive for first-class citizenship has not stalled.

"We hope in vain if we hope that this issue can be put over safely to another tomorrow," says Mike Mansfield. "At this moment in the nation's history, it is the senate's time and turn."

Those who demur at calling this statesmanship can use another term if they wish. It is spelled common sense, and it sounds just as good.

THAT CONFUSED WORD "IMITATION"—While the federal trade commission is trying to get itself out of the absurd posture into which it has fallen by refusing to allow litigation for the use of imitation fur, a broad area of the legal usage of the word "imitation" in labeling has fallen into genuine chaos.

George H. Burditt, a Chicago lawyer, says that under existing regulations frozen dessert made with vegetable oil and imitation cream is labeled "imitation cream." Artificially sweetened jelly must be called "imitation jelly" before the regulatory agency has promulgated a standard, but afterward it is not permitted to be so termed, he says. Mr. Burditt declares "imitation cheese" may denote either a cheap product low in fat content, or a more expensive product made by a new process to lower the salt content for dietary purposes.

FTC's prescription of the use of the word "fur" in identifying man-made products, even with the qualifying adjective "imitation," was the subject of recent hearings of the clothing and fur industries. Still earlier, the department of agriculture's usage that ham with moisture added must be labeled "imitation ham" had been struck down by a federal court.

It similarly confused approaches were taken toward some other products, nylon hose might be required to be labeled as imitation silk, and margarine as imitation butter. If the consumer is not eventually to be persuaded to regard the automobile as an imitation horse and buggy, it would seem that some re-thinking would be in order to distinguish between imitations of the old and developments of the new.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch

THE AIR ACCOUNT IS OVERDRAWN—Smokers, choose to inhale polluted air, but the rest of the growing population can't help drawing in varying amounts of dirt with every breath. We are breathing easier since congress passed the most comprehensive air-pollution control law in history, earmarking $5 million dollars for a three-year program.

But even with full controls, air pollution would continue to be a problem in an age of increasing combustion of all sorts of fuels, according to Dr. Philip A. Johnston, emeritus professor of chemistry, Stanford university. "The air account is overdrawn," he says, "when one man uses 300 horsepower just to drive to work." Controlling the products of combustion is not enough; combustion itself should be attacked. "We must reduce by every means possible the burning of fuels in favor of non-polluting sources of heat and power."

This will be something to be considered under the new law. Meanwhile, organizations elsewhere may want to consider the service provided by the Cambridge Civic association in Cambridge, Mass. It invites citizens who observe smokestacks and other sources of pollution to telephone its office with as many specific details of time and place as possible. Then the association passes on the information to the proper authorities for investigation and action.

It may be a bit of trouble, but without such efforts mankind could rob itself of the taken-for-granted air, and not know it until it's gone.—Christian Science Monitor.

GREAT PREDICTOR

In this time of floundering snows, the prediction that chances of major flooding this spring in East Idaho are slim appeals as an unreasonable bold statement.

But, let us hasten to add, the prediction was made by no less than Morlan W. Nelson, Boise, head of the snow survey section of the soil conservation service.

Consequently, we believe the flood prediction of Mr. Nelson blindly, and without reservation. Why, you say?

Turn back to an October issue of the Post-Register and you will find another prediction by Mr. Nelson.

There Mr. Nelson predicts that East Idaho is going to have plenty of snow this winter. Idaho Falls Post-Register

POT SHOTS

FOR POSTERITY

Dear Pots: Whenever anyone tries particularly hard to look good, that's when he's most likely to fall flat on his face.

It happened literally Sunday to a fellow we used to call Wonder Guy when he kept his parents wondering what he would do next.

Recently, Wonder Guy—now more appropriately called Young Giant—took up skiing. But he's kept away from any demonstrations during what he figured was the learning period and associated strictly with friends.

Then Sunday he presented an exhibition for the family on the Pike run at Magic mountain. With all the confidence in the world, he said, "Get a picture of me coming down the mountain."

To make a long story short, I was using the telephoto lens and watching through the viewfinder when he disappeared in a cloud of snow!

REAL SIMPLE

Anyone who complains about the complexities of direct long distance dialing either doesn't know what he's talking about or is baffled rather easily.

Take the case of a Twin Falls boy who has been bitten by the bug to own a horse. He kept talking about getting a pony, but his parents weren't paying much attention. Then they woke up suddenly and discovered it wasn't exactly all talk.

The boy had been scanning the T-N classified ads and checking up on all the ponies and horses he could find listed for sale.

Came the end of the month and the parents discovered he'd made phone calls as far away as Oakley in one direction and Boise in the other!

There's just nothing to this business of making long distance calls anymore. A child could—and did—do it!

OUR BULLETIN BOARD—Ina Fan, Twin Falls—Sorry, but it would make just as much sense to publicize the results of folks playing pinball machines.

YOU'LL FIND OUT—Dear Pot Shots:

I can remember my grandfather complaining about "aching in every joint" and once in a while I hear others—usually older people—complain about aching.

Is that something out of the ordinary or is it one of the things to be expected along with advancing years?

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Washington News

By MERRIMAN SMITH
(UPI White House Reporter)

WASHINGTON, March 3.—After the death of a world leader there frequently occurs an occult phenomenon. Friends, associates and others begin to talk about how the fallen leader had a premonition of death.

They take scraps of his conversation, obscure passages from letters and other signs, blend these together and come up with so-called proof of a premonition. Such is the legacy of the late President John F. Kennedy. Stories are starting to crop up in Washington and other parts of the country about signs, portents and moods that indicated Kennedy had a premonition of danger, if not death.

Such evidence, however, is a matter of hindsight and a bit of historical re-reading. Those closest to the late chief executive say he gave no outward evidence of fearing or expecting death in office from either natural causes or the type of violence of last Nov. 22 in Dallas.

One of the best possible sources on Kennedy's moods and thoughts said, "It was quite the other way around—he talked often of activities he planned to undertake after leaving office, and these conversations were in the context of his belief he would be elected to and serve out a second term."

U.N. Ambassador A. A. Stevenson said after the assassination that Kennedy was apprehensive about Kennedy's trip to Dallas. But he made clear this was based on his own previous trip to the Texas city when he was spat upon and was not in any way a premonition.

One close friend said Kennedy, after coming through World War

II and the dreadful trials of PT-109, felt in a sense that he was a man of destiny and could withstand tribulations of any sort.

What may give rise, however, to stories that he expected to be killed in office is that Kennedy during his last seasons with intimates was known to speculate on the best way to kill a president. One friend who heard such references says Kennedy was talking in the abstract and not thinking of his imaginary circumstances as applying to himself.

Once in a crowd, a package sailed over the heads of a massed cheering bystanders and landed near the president's Secret Service agents quickly pounced on the bundle. It turned out to be a gift for John, Jr. The donor saw no other way of getting it to Kennedy.

Being quite pragmatic about such things, Kennedy observed later that no protective force in the world could have saved him had the package been a bomb. Friends point out, however, that incidents such as this had not led Kennedy to believe he was better off without them.

One close friend cited another piece of evidence to disprove rumors that Kennedy had a premonition of death: Kennedy was discussing golf.

"It's a good game and fine exercise, but it takes up entirely too much time for a man in my job," the President is supposed to have said. "I'll get back to it afterwards."

He also was looking forward to activities with his family 5, 10 and 15 years hence.

"This doesn't sound like a man with a death premonition," a competent source said. "Of course, he knew he lived under a great deal of pressure. If you're PT-109, I'm sure he felt he could come through anything and survive."

The Doctor Says

BY W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Q—I am involved in the production of articles made from beryllium. To what extent is this metal toxic?

A—Anyone who works with powdered beryllium or its oxide is likely to inhale minute amounts. The effects appear more rapidly in men than in others, but over a period of several years this may lead to a thickening of the air sacs in the lungs. This would interfere with the normal exchange of gases in these sacs, and cause shortness of breath, exertion, coughing and loss of weight. The victim may also develop non-malignant tumors of the liver, spleen, lymph nodes and skin.

If the disease (berylliosis) is discovered early and the victim is removed from any further exposure to the metal, no lasting damage is done. The diagnosis can be aided by using a patch test in which a 1 per cent solution of beryllium sulfate is applied to the skin. Steroid hormones have been used to treat the disease, but the best treatment is prevention. You should consult a specialist in industrial health hazards for proper methods of eliminating the beryllium hazard in your plant, if there is one.

Q—What is Parnale used for? What are its side effects? Could it lower the blood pressure enough to cause shock?

A—Parnale (Parnale) is primarily a tranquilizer. Side effects may include restlessness, insomnia, drowsiness, dizziness, dry mouth and headache. The drug may lower the blood pressure, but in the doses prescribed by your doctor it would not cause the pressure to fall to shock level. When the drug is discontinued, the blood pressure quickly returns to the pretreatment level.

Q—I'm 40 and my pulse runs between 52 and 55 beats per minute. Is this abnormally low?

A—A pulse rate as low as 50 may be normal in some persons, especially large-bodied athletes. An electrocardiogram would show whether or not your low pulse rate is associated with any irregularity of the heart. If your tracings are normal, you have nothing to worry about. In fact, persons with a normally slow pulse usually live longer than those with a fast one.

Q—About five years ago my uterus was removed, and 18 months ago I started to get fat across the middle of my abdomen. What could cause this?

A—It is not uncommon for women in middle age to develop a protruding abdomen, if you are not unusually fat, especially around shoulders and hips, this change in shape is probably not due to an accumulation of fat, but to sagging abdominal muscles or to bloating. A tight-fitting girdle and exercises to strengthen the abdominal muscles should help you to regain your shape.

If bloating is the cause, you should avoid starchy vegetables (potatoes, rice, corn, peas and beans) and carbonated beverages.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, March 3.—If President Johnson had done nothing else in his three months in office than to turn the light of publicity on poverty in America, he would have made a place for himself in history.

Thanks to the President's declaration of unconditional war on poverty, we are beginning to look at the invisible man.

What we are seeing is not flattery to Marquis Childs, America's ego. Indifference and apathy are beginning to give way to concern and a belief that something can be done to end the shame of misery in the midst of plenty.

Albert Geringer, one of the areas of poverty we are asked to look at came up with President Johnson and President Lopez Mateos of Mexico in their talks in California. The braceros are the Mexican laborers—200,000 last year—brought into this country to do the stooping, bending, picking of crops that cannot be harvested by machine.

Each year that the law permitting the braceros to enter the United States is renewed, restrictions are up for renewal spoken by the congress for America's own farm laborers protest. This, they say, undercuts America's farm laborers who are at the bottom of the heap. It is a subsidy to the big factory farms in California and the Southwest. According to department of labor figures put into the record when the bracero program was last debated, 2,500,000 farm laborers get an average yearly wage of $1,654.

That would seem to give them undisputed claim to the bottom position.

When the bracero question came up in the California talks, President Lopez Mateos said that this was a question for the United States to determine. He had the impression that it benefited the American growers and it provided work for Mexicans who might otherwise be unemployed.

His restraint reflected Mexican pride. There is an understanding, but reluctant to admit that the bracero earnings sent back home are a factor in Mexico's balance of payments. The total may be as high as $7 million dollars. The program is also a source of jobs for otherwise idle men who might swell the discontent that it is a political reality seldom observed by the tourists who see Mexico's showy boom in the cities and in resorts like Acapulco.

Despite increasing efforts to safeguard the braceros, incidents come to light showing the hardships and misery they suffer while being transported from place to place, the shattering harvest season. Last September in a single grade-crusher accident 28 of these imported farm workers were killed and the remainder of 58 in a makeshift bus were injured, some of them crippled for life. Only the driver escaped.

This caused an outcry over the apparent negligence and indifference contributing to what the National Safety Council said was the worst accident of its kind ever to occur in this country. Chairman Adam Clayton Powell of the House education and labor committee named Dr. Ernesto Galarza to investigate the tragedy. And that touched off another controversy.

Galarza, a Mexican-American who put himself through schools by his own efforts all the way up to a Ph.D. at Columbia university, has long been a fighter for farm labor. His is the background which John Steinbeck made famous in "Grapes of Wrath." "Tortilla Flat." He says up a comfortable job in Washington to try to organize farm workers in the now-abandoned National Agricultural Workers Union of the AFL-CIO.

Consequently he was for 10 years in violent conflict with the big growers. When Powell named him to do the study he was attacked by one of California's right-wing congressmen who cited an alleged congressional report to ask him with common sense. Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., came to his defense and showed beyond any reasonable doubt that no such report existed. Galarza is currently suing one of the big growers for libel resulting from charges based on the same "report."

The bracero law expires at the end of this year. California growers say they do not want it renewed. Automation is beginning to take over even the crops where manual labor is essential. But this is no answer either for the Mexican farm workers or for the 2,500,000 American farm laborers who together with their families earn a precarious existence in the factory fields of the West. His administration, as the President is so fond of saying, is a can-do administration and now with the light turned on is the time to act.

Poor Man's Plato

NEW YORK, March 3 (U.P.)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

American working girls are going to town in a big way. Around 1900, one out of five employed women earned her pay on a farm or ranch. Today only one out of 10 does.

But the women are getting more valuable—they now are buying 20 per cent of all new policies issued in this country.

rubber bridge player will concentrate on making his contract. Therefore, at rubber bridge you should cash the ace and king of diamonds after you have drawn trumps. East's queen will drop and you will have avoided the loss of a diamond trick.

Why was this? Because you had planned to lead the jack of diamonds if the queen did not drop. Should East hold the queen, you would have lost the diamond finesse anyway, but would still be able to take the club finesse.

Should West hold the queen you would have given up an unnecessary diamond trick, but you would be certain to make your contract because West would have to give you a ruff and discard or lead a club for you.

Sub Missile Safeguard Is Stressed

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The navy said Monday even if all land-based U.S. missiles were put on submarines, the submarine-based Polaris missiles alone could wreak such devastation on Russia as to rule out any rational assault on this country.

Navy Secretary Paul H. Nitze said this was established in a theoretical test Friday, based on the actual deployment and known state of readiness of Polaris subs now in the fleet.

Nitze said the submarines are "practically invulnerable," to surprise enemy action of the kind envisioned by missile critics who say many would be destroyed and many others would either not fire or not reach their targets.

In an implied slap at such critics—one of them Sen. Barry Goldwater, R., Ariz.—Nitze said "the essential element to deterrence is the credibility that retaliation will be devastating and inevitable."

He said he is satisfied that the Polaris missile fleet as now deployed could not be prevented from retaliating; that the reliability of Polaris missiles is high; and that the damage potential of these missiles alone was so great as to make an enemy attack "irrational."

Red China Calls for World Unity

LONDON, March 3 (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China called Monday night for unity among all the peace-loving forces of the world in a struggle for peace against what he termed imperialist policies of war and aggression.

By implication, in a recorded television interview, Chou seemed to be asking the Soviet Union to close ranks with communists in the two great nations of the world in a dispute over ideology. Chou said the West is trying to divide them even further.

He said that China and the Soviet Union would fight together in any war against imperialism. At the same time, Chou said, the Soviet leaders without claiming them, saying it was a war. Soviet Premier Khrushchev made such a remark last fall.

"China will never provoke a war," Chou said. "But should imperialism impose war on us, we would have no alternative but to resist firmly, and whatever the cost, we would never surrender."

"We love peace and we firmly oppose wars of aggression," Chou said.

"China wants peaceful coexistence with every country in the world, including the United States of America, on the basis of the five principles."

These five principles are mutual respect for sovereignty and territorial integrity, nonaggression, noninterference in each other's internal affairs, equality and mutual benefit, and peaceful coexistence.

The 65-year-old Chinese leader accused the United States of threatening China and all other peace-loving nations with nuclear weapons. He said the limited nuclear test ban treaty signed in Moscow does not remove this threat.

Metalious' Will Changed

LACONIA, N.H., March 3 (AP)—The estate of "Peyton Place" author Grace Metalious estimated at up to one million dollars—apparently will go to her three children.

The 65-year-old author of the best-selling "Peyton Place" died last week. Her lawyer, Bernard T. Snierson, Laconia, Sunday that he is giving up his claim.

Snierson said Rees' action might result in an agreement to restate the terms of an earlier will.

The Metalious children, Mrs. Martha Dupont, 20, Christopher, 17, and Cynthia, 13, were named the beneficiaries under the earlier will, signed in 1958.

Rees, a former British journalist, told a news conference in Boston last week that he had met the author last fall.

He and Mrs. Metalious had been collaborating on a book intended for publication next year, he said.

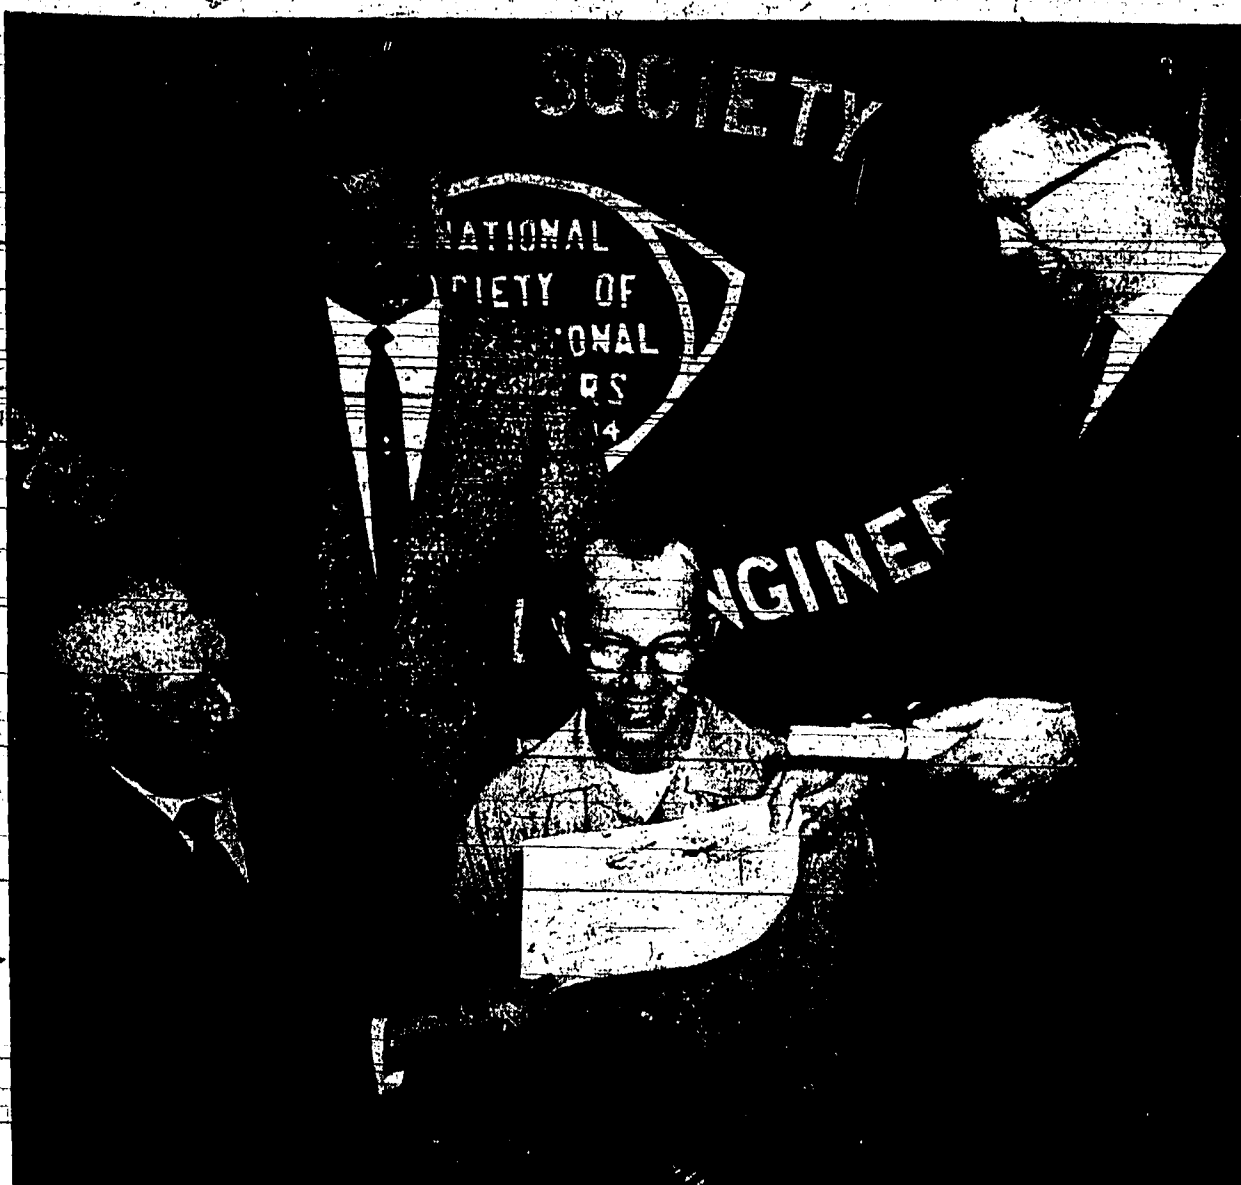

Mrs. Metalious, 36, had signed a new will last Monday night in a Boston hospital naming Rees sole beneficiary and excluding the three children. She died of a liver ailment the next day.

Man Says He Was Offered Money to Shoot Nkrumah

ACCRA, Ghana, March 3 (AP)—A former police constable accused of trying to kill President Kwame Nkrumah reportedly claimed he was offered $5,000 and free schooling in the United States to do the job.

Seth Nicholas Kwame Ametee, 23, is accused of firing five shots at Nkrumah Jan. 2. The statement read during a preliminary hearing Monday and attributed to Ametee, he accused Deputy Police Commissioner Samuel Danso Amanting of enlisting him in the assassination plot.

Amenting also is under arrest.

Information Bill Endorsed By Senators

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—A senate judiciary subcommittee endorsed Monday a freedom-of-information bill with a provision for court enforcement.

The bill is designed to provide full disclosure of information by government agencies unless the information is exempted under clearly delineated statutory language.

It would provide a court procedure by which citizens and the press may obtain information deemed wrongfully withheld.

But in the words of the subcommittee chairman the bill faces an uphill fight.

Sen. Edward V. Riegle, D., Mo., chairman of the subcommittee on administrative practices and procedures, said he is pleased with the bill and is pleased approval by his group.

"But we should not kid ourselves about the legislation's prospects," he said.

"There is intense opposition to the bill from virtually every government agency in Washington," he added.

The subcommittee said that there is no present law which affirmatively provides for a policy of disclosure, although the theory of an informed electorate is so vital to the proper operation of a democracy.

Concerning the provision for a specific court remedy, the report said a complainant could bring an action in the district court where he resides, or in which the agency is located.

If the court finds that the information was wrongfully withheld, it may require the agency to pay the costs and reasonable attorney's fees, the report said.

"This power of the court to assess costs and reasonable attorney's fees," the report said, "is provided so that a private citizen or the press will be less prone to hesitate to use the remedy provided... because of financial inability or risk."

The bill would provide also that the proceeding must be de novo, or in each case fresh. This is essential, the report said, "in order that the ultimate decision as to the propriety of the agency's action is made by the court and prevent it from becoming meaningless judicial sanctioning of agency discretion."

"Placing the burden of proof upon the agency and requiring it to sustain its action by a preponderance of the evidence," the report added, "puts the task of justifying and withholding on the only party able to explain it. The private party can hardly be asked to prove that an agency has improperly withheld public information, when he will not know the reasons for it."

Exemptions from disclosure would include, among other matters, information specifically required by executive order to be kept secret for the protection of national defense or foreign policy, and matter relating solely to the internal personnel rules and practices of any agency.

France Backs China for Health Group

GENEVA, March 3 (AP)—France today demanded the admission of communist China to the United Nations World Health organization.

The French announcement on the opening day of the annual WHO assembly indicated that France will take a similar position in the U.N. general assembly and in all organizations affiliated with the United Nations.

French delegate Eugene Audouin made the announcement as the assembly debated a Soviet proposal to recognize the Peking regime as the rightful representative of China in the 110-member health organization.

It was the first time any major international body has faced a challenge to the Chinese Nationalist delegation since France recognized Red China on Jan. 28.

Mrs. Wagner, N.Y. Mayor's Wife, Dies

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—Mrs. Susan Wagner, who as wife of Mayor Robert F. Wagner reigned as first lady of the nation's largest city for more than 10 years, died Monday of lung cancer.

Mrs. Wagner, 55, was a charming and gracious hostess to visiting dignitaries from everywhere. She had been ailing for 10 months but public disclosure of the seriousness of her illness was not made until a few hours before she died.

The mayor, his two sons, and Mrs. Wagner's mother, Mrs. Duncan Edwards, were at her bedside in the official Oracle Mansion residence when the end came.

Convict Tells Of Hidden Nitro Cache

BOISE, March 3 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Allen G. Shephard says he is checking the claim of an Idaho State penitentiary inmate that he has enough nitroglycerine buried near an Oklahoma town to destroy buildings.

Shephard went to the penitentiary Monday to talk to Rex C. Angel, 33, who is serving 15 years for a Pocatello burglary. But the attorney general declined to say what he had learned.

"I spent some time interviewing Angel and the matter is being checked," he said.

Angel offered to reveal the location of a cache of nitroglycerine he hid in hidden near Durant, Okla., if Oklahoma authorities got him out of Idaho.

To prove his point he revealed the location of one cache. He says there is another still hidden.

Durant authorities say they haven't heard from Angel since November and they haven't shown interest in the deal he proposed.

He wrote to a Durant newspaper:

"There is enough of this nitro in one spot to put the Democrat newspaper building into orbit and keep it there until the walls of the state prison fall down."

Pole Defector
Helped Find
Soviet Spies

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—A Polish agent who defected to the West in 1961 has been described as the source of information that led to the arrest of several important Soviet spies operating outside the United States.

The Pole was identified by sources Monday as Michael Golieniewski, who came to the United States in 1961 after reportedly having been in contact with U. S. intelligence agents in Poland since 1958.

The New York Journal-American ran a story about Golieniewski Monday and described him as having been a high-ranking operative in the Soviet Union's KGB until his defection.

The newspaper said he had informed U. S. officials that the Kremlin had placed cells in the central intelligence agency and state department which he was sure were still operating.

Sources said however that the information in the Journal-American was not consistent with information the defector had given the U. S. government.

The source is said to have reported that he had supplied plenty of information to U. S. intelligence which had been turned over to the FBI and fully checked out. Some of this information was said to have led to the downfall of important Soviet agents abroad.

KOREA GIVEN GRAIN

SEOUL, Korea, March 3 (AP)—The United States is going to provide South Korea 425,000 tons of surplus barley and wheat this year, the U. S. embassy said today. An embassy spokesman said the grain, worth 29.6 million dollars, would be shipped by June.

News Around Idaho

AMERICAN FALLS, March 3 (AP)—American Falls school teachers are asking for a salary schedule for the 1964-65 school year that would bring them close to the salary recommendations of the Idaho Education association. The new schedule would reduce the time necessary to achieve maximum salaries from 10 to 13 years and increase annual pay increments from $125 to $200. Beginning salaries would be $3,500 for teachers with four years of college; $5,375 for five years, and $5,450 for teachers with master's degrees. These salaries would be about the same for teachers with bachelor's degrees, but about $125 more for teachers with master's degrees.

CALDWELL, March 3 (AP)—The first degree murder trial of Tito Vega, a migrant farm laborer, began in Caldwell Monday but was recessed after jurors at attorneys to select a jury. Court attorneys said questioning of prospective jurors will continue Tuesday. Vega is accused in the shooting death last Sept. 14 of Genaro Garza, 59, a migrant labor contractor, at the West Valley labor camp near Wilder. Judge Edward J. Ashenbrenner is presiding at the seventh district court trial.

BOISE, March 3 (AP)—The Idaho state advisory board of the bureau of land management is conducting its annual meeting today in Boise. Scheduled to speak at the morning session were Clifford P. Fix, Twin Falls, representing Idaho Water Users, Land Commissioner O. J. Buxton and State Director of the Bureau of Land Management Joe T. Fallini. This is the second meeting of the board. Fallini said it has been expanded to include representatives of wildlife interests, state and county governments, outdoor recreation, forestry, mining, soil conservation and water users.

BOISE, March 3 (AP)—Two officials of the U. S. office of education planned to continue discussions today with officials of the state department of education on use of national defense education act funds in Idaho. They are Dr. Robert A. Crummell and Dr. Patricia M. Spry. Harold F. Parley, deputy superintendent for federal state programs, said Idaho received about $258,000 for the last school year under title III of the act. The money is provided on a matching basis for equipment, remodeling and instruction in science, mathematics and modern foreign languages. The state received $87,000 under another section for guidance and counseling services.

KELLOGG, March 3 (AP)—Members of the United Steelworkers will meet here Saturday to consider a compromise proposal for settlement of the 4-month strike against the Sunshine Mine company, officials of the North Idaho local of the union have announced. The proposal was drawn up by a special mediation panel at San Francisco last week-end. Details have not been revealed and officials of the company have said only that the proposal is being studied. About 400 workers have been idled since Nov. 4 at the Sunshine mine near here, the nation's largest silver producer. The walkout originally was in protest to the firm's linking of a proposed pay boost to ending free bus service to the mine.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, March 3 — Born today, you have a highly magnetic personality which could actually be as much of a handicap as a boon. All manner of people are drawn to you — kind and cruel, rich and poor, naive and crafty, good and bad — and sorting them out, discovering which are worthy of your attentions and which are not, may become a big part of your life. Nor is it an unimportant part, for the degree of success you attain will ultimately depend on the type of people with which you surround yourself.

Learn to judge on your own. You are rather too susceptible to the suggestions of others, and could easily be influenced to lean the wrong way, make the wrong decision, or be discouraged in the unwisest action. Trust to your own instincts and to your own knowledge of the affairs of the world and you will be better off.

Never owe to go astray purposely, you are at heart kind, generous and sympathetic. In addition you have a rather remarkable head-on your shoulders — exercise it! You have the potential to become a leader on just about any level you desire, to fulfill this potential, however, you need confidence and the courage of your own convictions. You also need a mate who believes in you, bear this in mind and, in your search, keep an eye out for an idealist.

Among those who were born on this date: William Codrin, English historian, political philosopher; Alexander Graham Bell, inventor, teacher; Sir William Beveridge, noted English economist.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Wednesday, March 4
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Be especially alert to opportunities today and you should be able to recognize a good thing when you see it.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — If you have a new plan or a fresh idea to introduce to those in authority, this could be the day to promote yourself.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — The Taurus with a willingness to place adventure ahead of the safety of routine could well be in for a pleasant surprise. How about it?

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — See that your ideas are well presented, especially if they are to be offered by another. Protect your own interests.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Combine your artistic and business capabilities to bring advantages to both sides of your nature.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — One of your best days whether at home or on the job. You should be able to present your views with spectacular clarity.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Push present projects to completion if possible, but at the same time avoid overdoing. You've as much to lose as to gain.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — One of those days with friendship built into its hours. Work with others for the betterment of all. Rewards to come.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) — Your business interests may need your full attention today. A day for advancing your career, but restraining your instincts.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Move your plans forward toward the action stage. You can get the results you wish if you stop procrastinating.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — An excellent day for making progress where a financial or business arrangement with another is involved. Move ahead!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — All partnerships are well-favored. Pay particular attention to cementing newly formed relationships of a personal nature.

Indians Roll Into Olympia To Protest

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 3 (AP)—Automobiles full of Indians rolled into this state capital this morning bringing representatives of most of Washington's four dozen tribes for a summit meeting with Gov. Albert D. Rosellini about century-old treaties.

The Indians, most of them members of the western Washington fishing tribes, are protesting the state game department's regulations to forbid Indian net-fishing off reservations. Clauses in treaties signed in the mid-1850's with the United States, they say, give them the right to fish "at all usual and accustomed grounds."

Speeches of protest, were ready for presentation to the governor on the steps of the Capitol in front of an expected 1,000 to 1,500 Indians.

They will be joined by actor Marlon Brando and the Rev. John Yarnan of San Francisco, an Episcopal minister, who are supporting the protest.

Brando starred in the first act of the Indian drama Monday when he participated in a "fish-in" at the Puyallup river east of nearby Tacoma.

Brando and the Rev. Mr. Yarnan helped an Indian catch two steelhead trout and were arrested for illegal fishing. They were turned loose after less than two hours in custody.

Play Critical Of Pope Hit By Spellman

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, has denounced the play "The Deputy" in which Pope Pius XII is depicted as a cowardly, self-serving, and cruel figure.

Spellman said the play, which is being performed in New York, is "a gross distortion of the truth and a deliberate insult to the Catholic Church and the Pope."

The play, written by Robert Holcomb, is based on a book by the same author, "The Deputy: A Story of the Vatican and the Holocaust." It depicts Pope Pius XII as a man who is more concerned with his own power and prestige than with the welfare of the people.

Spellman said he had written to the author and the producers of the play, asking them to stop the production. He said he had also written to the Catholic Bishops of the United States, asking them to take action against the play.

The play has been running for several weeks in New York, and has received mixed reviews. Some critics have praised it as a powerful and moving work, while others have criticized it as a distortion of the truth and an insult to the Catholic Church.

Rocky Plans His Campaign in Southern Oregon

ONTARIO, Ore., March 3 (AP)—New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is scheduled to begin a campaign tour of eastern and southern Oregon March 30 with a breakfast address at Ontario.

The Ontario Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a representative fast, Chalmers said. Rockefeller is expected to arrive in Seattle by jet March 29, and to fly on a smaller aircraft to Ontario that night.

Mrs. Rockefeller, who is expecting a child later this year, will accompany Rockefeller, Holladay said.

The Republican presidential aspirant spent three days campaigning in western Oregon early in February.

Grab Order Decried

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika, March 3 (AP)—President Abdulla Karume said the "grab order" preventive detention—under which he can hold indefinitely in custody anyone deemed to be acting in a manner dangerous to peace and good order or who may endanger defense and security.

Karume said the "grab order" is a "gross violation of the rights of the people and a gross insult to the dignity of the state."

He said he had written to the United Nations, asking them to take action against the "grab order."

The "grab order" was issued by the Tanganyikan government in 1962, and has since been used to detain a number of people, including several members of the opposition.

Prescription for Painless Saving

YOU can easily start a new standard of saving instead of succumbing to the new standard of living. And you can do it "painlessly" by saving the extra dollars in your paycheck.

Less money for Federal income tax, you know, will be withheld from your paycheck this month — and every payday thereafter. Never again will it be so easy to start a regular savings program — or to increase your present thrift plan.

By simply depositing those extra dollars with First Security Bank, you can succeed in accomplishing the savings goal you have always had in mind. It will be "financially painless," too, for you will be saving money you have virtually never had.

If you have a First Security Bank checking account, it's even easier. We'll transfer those extra dollars from your checking account to your savings account monthly or each pay day, as you prefer. Mother Is Jailed for Park Fines

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 3 (AP)—A 39-year-old mother who said parking fines were "unconstitutional and degrading," has spent her first night in jail rather than pay $115 in penalties.

After she was sentenced Monday, Dorothy Horvath and her husband decided their 15-month-old daughter, Lisa, would be better off in jail with her mother. Jail-matrons took another view and the father agreed to take the child home.

Mrs. Horvath, the mother of three, was sentenced to 55 days by County Judge John E. Krueger. Police said she accumulated 14 parking tickets in a 3 1/2-month period late last year.

Mrs. Horvath is a student at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, studying for an advanced degree in guidance and counseling. Her husband, William, 42, teaches economics at the Milwaukee vocational school.

Pastor Protests 'Fanny Hill'

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—A clergyman opposing the court-ordered ban of the novel "Fanny Hill" plans to distribute copies of the book at services in his church next Sunday.

The appellate division of the state supreme court last Thursday judged as obscene the book, which describes the life of a young country girl who goes to London and turns to prostitution.

The Rev. William Glensiek of Spencer Memorial Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, said he planned to compare episodes in the book to "certain sections of the Bible."

He said he planned to give copies of the erotic novel to his congregation as a protest against the book ban.

He said the books were donated by G. P. Putnam's sons, publisher, a panel discussion will follow the church services, he said.

Wilson Ends His Visit With Johnson

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—British Labor party leader Harold Wilson ended his Washington visit today after having what he called a "very good, frank talk" with President Johnson.

He declined to spell out just what they discussed Monday, but told reporters he couldn't think of any important subjects they hadn't touched on.

"We had a very enjoyable talk," he said. "It was very frank. There were no difficulties of communication or lack of words."

Wilson holds a news conference today in the British Embassy then leaves the capital to receive an honorary degree from Bridgeport university in Connecticut. He arrived here Saturday.

Wilson, who would become prime minister if the Labor party wins the forthcoming British election, said his trip here had two purposes: to inform himself up to date on American thinking and to answer any questions put to him.

Asked for his evaluation of Johnson, the Labor party leader said: "I felt the Western Alliance and the United States are in good hands."

Wilson wouldn't be drawn into a discussion of British politics but did say he thought the British election would be held soon, rather than in the Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home could put the "voting off until fall, there have been reports it may be held in June."

Wilson was accompanied here by his wife and 15-year-old son. While here, Johnson had his conference. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Wilson talked over tea.

Oklahomans Plan Parley On 'Booms'

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 3 (AP)—Boomers and anti-boomers gathered for a showdown at city hall today.

It was uncertain whether the city council would take official action on the question of sonic boom tests. But today's meeting promised to be a lively one.

There was no reference to the federal aviation agency's sonic boom flight on the council's agenda. But both sides were prepared to offer their opinions.

About 100 persons attended an organizational "ban-the-boom" meeting last night and heard a suggestion that each one attend today's council meeting and bring two friends.

"We won't even be heard if we don't outnumber them tomorrow," one woman said.

Petitions on both sides of the issue were circulated in the city today. Nearly everyone at last night's meeting, in fact, had a copy of a petition urging an end to the FAA boom tests.

The tests, designed to test public tolerance of booms that would be created by supersonic jet transports, have been halted by supporters as vital to the aircraft industry and to Oklahoma City.

Opponents say the booms are a nuisance, harmful to property and even a violation of constitutional rights.

The council last week voted to ask the FAA to suspend the tests for three months, but backed off the next day and decided to wait before making any requests to the federal agency.

Gordon Bain, deputy administrator of the FAA, the man in charge of sonic boom research, was invited to attend a council meeting to further explain the program. He said he could not attend today's meeting, but would visit with councilmen at a later date.

Idahoans Not Happy With Property Tax

By KEN ROBISON
Associated Press Writer

BOISE, March 3 (AP)—About half of Idaho's lawmakers responding to a survey report people in their counties are unhappy with the property tax increase that resulted from a cut in state aid to schools.

The cutback was ordered by the board of examiners at the urging of Gov. Robert E. Smylie when tax revenue fell short.

To make up for the loss, the board cut the school aid for the 1963-64 year by 10 percent, or $100 million.

The schools will get the same amount of money, but that amount, instead of coming from income and excise taxes at the state level, comes out of the pocket of property taxpayers.

Thirty-four lawmakers responded to a questionnaire to find out how they felt about the action in their counties. Seventeen of them reported unfavorable reaction, while 16 said there was little or no reaction, or people accepted the increase without complaining.

Some lawmakers say the action has focused more attention on school finance problems.

Rep. Harold Snow, R., Latah, said people in his county "blame the legislature and the governor for inadequate support of schools."

Allocations to higher education institutions were cut 4.8 per cent, Snow said. The University of Idaho has had to restrict out-of-state and graduate enrollment, and will limit undergraduate enrollment next fall.

He said the school is "being hurt by inadequate financial support," adding:

"True or not, our people believe that Idaho state university is not having to curtail the programs in the same manner."

But Sen. Perry Swisher, a Republican, and Rep. T. F. Terrell, a Democrat, said reaction was unfavorable in Bannock county.

Sen. J. Clifford Forsgren, R., Franklin, said people in his county were generally opposed to the action, and Rep. Mark Hart, D., Franklin, said people were "strongly against."

"It has resulted in much opposition as well it should," said Rep. Charles Powers, D., Custer. "I would favor amending it."

Sen. J. Burns Beal, R., Butte, said the action puts the burden on property owners, limiting the number of people who pay the bill.

Sen. J. C. Sandberg, D., Blingham, said "the people were disturbed but seemingly have accepted the increase as a must to maintain education standards."

Rep. James Martin, R., Jerome, who has moved to Cassia county, said people in both counties have indicated they are "very dissatisfied."

Rep. Karl Klingler, R., Madison, said "many people are unhappy about it." Republican Sen. Dick Smith of the same county said "many people are upset with the high property tax."

From among those who reported little or no reaction came these comments:

"Our people are not too unhappy. It has opened the eyes of people to the need."

Sen. Don Loveland, R., Cassia, said "Our people are not too unhappy. It has opened the eyes of people to the need."

Sen. Don Samuelson, R., Bonanza, said "I have had no reaction. I believe our people realize that it had to be done."

Rep. W. Larry Mills, R., Ada, said "The same as any tax increase. Nobody likes it but will accept it until something better comes along."

Rep. Dale Garner, R., Minidoka, said "Not much complaint one way or the other. There was, however, some complaint about increases in book fees."

Sen. Harry Nock, D., Valley, said "No problem."

Rep. Fred Walton, D., Camas, said "It is the right approach. Considering assessed values we have always supported our schools with one of the largest tax levies in the state."

Sen. Vince Nally, R., Gem, said "Very little reaction except among school administrators."

Three Canyon county representatives reported little or no reaction. They were Reps. G. M. Brown, John W. Batt, Jr., and Clair B. Hull, all Republicans.

Rep. Dale Garner, R., Minidoka, said "Not much complaint one way or the other. There was, however, some complaint about increases in book fees."

THE WASHING OF THE FEET

Before taking leave of His Apostles, Christ gave them a lasting lesson in humility. Wrapping a towel around Himself, he poured water into a basin and began to wash their feet.

Simon Peter was aghast at his Master's actions. "Lord," he said, "Thou shalt never wash my feet!"

Jesus answered him, "If I do not wash thee, thou shalt have no part of Me."

Simon Peter said unto Him: "Lord, not only my feet, but also my hands and my head." (John XIII:9)

Gen. Douglas MacArthur Is Undergoing Hospital Tests

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the old soldier hero, was undergoing tests today at the Army's Walter Reed hospital for "abdominal complaints."

Hospital officials refused to say how serious his condition was, and announced that no information would be available until the examinations were completed and evaluated.

Other sources said the general would be treated for jaundice—a yellowing of the skin that can be associated with various ailments including hepatitis.

The general, 64, did not appear to be in acute pain Monday when he arrived after a flight from New York, where he has lived since 1951.

MacArthur, looking as though he recently had lost weight, climbed from the military plane and walked to a limousine which took him to the hospital.

Arriving at the side entrance to the main building, MacArthur walked resolutely up a slight incline, paused for photographers, then entered the elevator which took him to the five-room, third-floor "W. I. P." suite.

This is the suite occupied by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower when he underwent a serious abdominal operation several years ago, and by a host of other famous persons, many of them foreign dignitaries.

After a brief luncheon, the examinations were begun, the hospital said.

Reporters glimpsed MacArthur, dressed in pajamas and bath robe, as his wheel chair was shoved into an elevator on the third floor, apparently on the way to an examination room.

After MacArthur had left New York, an announcement said "MacArthur was accompanied by his wife and an aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney. Mrs. MacArthur stayed with her husband in his suite."

MacArthur, whose army career spanned half a century, underwent a prostate operation in January 1960 at New York's Lenox Hill hospital. He recovered rapidly and has led an active life since then.

Buhl Firemen Called Out Twice

BUHL, March 3—Members of the Buhl fire department answered two summonses Saturday, Fire Chief Tony Kirkland reported today.

At 4 p.m. firemen were called to the M. J. McClintock residence at 411 East Main street, when burning trash ignited weeds and the fire spread threatening nearby buildings. There were no damages.

Damage was limited to scorched wiring from a fire which broke out at the Earl W. Read residence, one-fourth of a mile north of Buhl on the Clear Lakes road, about 11 a.m. Read had been using a blowtorch, making repairs under his home, and sparks ignited the building paper located between the joists. The fire spread into the attic.

After a brief luncheon, the examinations were begun, the hospital said.

Top Safety Leader Raps Traffic Laws

SALT LAKE CITY, March 3 (AP)—The motorist caught speeding in his high-powered car often gets "horse and buggy" justice for the offense.

That's the conclusion of W. O. Johnson, general manager of the national safety council.

He told newsmen Monday Utah's traffic courts should be reformed and justice of the peace courts, where many traffic offense cases are now heard, brought up-to-date.

Johnson said justice of the peace in the well-managed and administered courtrooms should be lawyers and wear robes while conducting cases. The robes would add dignity to the courts, he explained.

Prosecutors should be available to advise motorists of their rights and court procedure, Johnson added.

He noted that the only trip to court for most motorists involves a traffic citation. "They must go away from a traffic court impressed with the hazards of the road and impressed with the dignity of the court, if they are to become safely-minded," he declared.

Miss Howerton Is Honored at Rebekah Tea

HAGERMAN, March 3—Pauline Howerton, Payette, Rebekah assembly president, was honored at a tea at the home of Mrs. Nora Fallon. Pink roses centered the table covered with lace and individual cakes were decorated with pink roses.

A banquet was served by Job's Daughters at the Masonic temple for Rebekah members and guests.

Pink roses, silver candles in crystal holders and nut cups carried out the president's color scheme. Mrs. Cletice Marsh and Mrs. Ralph Miller were in charge of decorations.

Mrs. Rex McGinnity was mistress of ceremonies. The president's song and hymn were sung by Job's Daughters quartet, accompanied by Karol LeMoine.

Following the banquet, a special meeting was held at the IOOF hall. The hall was decorated by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. LeRoy Jolley.

Mrs. Gene Overlie and Mrs. Dale Blane introduced Miss Howerton, who was presented with special honors. A gift of Snake river pottery was presented by Mrs. Ernest Marsh.

Other guests include Mrs. Guy Ulrich, Buhl, district No. 5 deputy president; Mrs. Frank Markham, Mountain Home, district No. 7 deputy president; Mrs. Clarence McKinney, Mountain Home, lodge deputy; and Mrs. Elwood Grimes, Hagerman lodge deputy.

Others attended from Buhl, Mountain Home and Gooding.

Mrs. Vernon Brewer, Hagerman, was escorted to the altar by Mrs. G. P. Russell and presented her 25-year jewelry by Mrs. Marsh.

The president's message was highlighted by her scripture, "Live in harmony with one another." Her slogan is "Let your heart make melody."

Plans Are Made For Rebekah Official Visit

FAIRFIELD, March 3—Plans were made by members of Occident Rebekah lodge No. 58 for the official visit of Pauline Howerton, Payette, state assembly president, at the regular meeting of the lodge. Miss Howerton will be guest of the local lodge March 12.

A salad bar luncheon is planned with Mrs. Gankill, noble grand, in charge. Marching drills for the occasion were practiced.

An invitation was read from the Gooding Marguerite lodge No. 98 for members of the local group to attend a special meeting when Miss Howerton makes her official visit to Gooding.

Mrs. Rosella Ashmard was installed as conductor. The group voted to buy 30 copies of the new revised constitution. It was reported that 12 sick calls were made. Plans were made for serving the 4-H banquet in March.

Mrs. Herbert Gormley, lodge deputy, answered questions from the question box.

Hostesses were Mrs. Axel Olson and Mrs. Gerald Lamson. A white elephant exchange was held. Refreshments were served.

Miss Knifong, Huettig Recite Wedding Vows

EDEN, March 3—Sharon Kay Knifong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Knifong, became the bride of Lieut. Keith A. Huettig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Huettig, Hazelton, at a candlelight ceremony performed Feb. 15 at Trinity Lutheran church, Eden.

The Rev. Richard A. Tschirley officiated at the double ring ceremony with a background setting of beauty baskets of white pom-poms, white standard chrysanthemums with silvered foliage and tapered and swirl candelabra intertwined with amaranth and silver leaves, decorated with white carnations. Candelighters were Lawrence Huettig, brother of the bridegroom, and Carlos Crandall, cousin of the bride.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white satin and lace with long, tapered sleeves, a high collar and a full skirt with a white train. Her veil of illusion was held by a white silk rose. Her bouquet was a cascade of four white cattleya orchids and white ranunculus. The bride wore the traditional blue garter. Her only jewelry was a ruby and pearl jeweled fraternity pin, a gift of the bridegroom.

Karen Johnson, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridal attendants were Joyce Buchhorn, sister of the bridegroom; Linda Crandall, cousin of the bride; and Juanita Burgesmaster, friend of the bride. Each wore a turquoise sheath dress with white and silver lame and carried a nosegay of large white chrysanthemums and feathered white chrysanthemums accented with silver leaves.

Douglas Kaserman, friend of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Gerald Huettig and Myron Huettig, brothers of the bridegroom, and Richard Stiles, friend of the bridegroom.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Vernon Lassen, Piler. Mrs. Norbert Lassen, Piler, was soloist.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece off-white wool crepe dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece powder blue, brocade dress. Each wore a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white silk cloth edged with a floor-length white nylon tulle. Garlands of amaranth and pink carnations were fastened at the center front and at each corner.

A four-tiered wedding cake with round base, decorated with white swirls and white pink roses and silver leaves. Tiers were divided with white pillars and swans. The base of the cake was trimmed with amaranth, pink snapdragons and pink eucalyptus. The cake was topped with white satin ribbons. The wedding cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Vern Schutte. Crystal centerpieces of pink and white snapdragons, pink eucalyptus and teal tapers stood at each end of the table. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. William Ritchie, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Henry Wendling, friend of the bride. Punch and coffee were served by Mary Knifong, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Gary Crandall, cousin of the bride. The refreshment table was covered with a teal cloth topped with a hand-crocheted tablecloth made by the bridegroom's grandmother.

Mrs. Douglas Kaserman, friend of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Gifts were arranged by Pamela Huettig and Carol Huettig, sisters of the bridegroom. Mrs. Richard Stiles and Mrs. Joseph Davidson.

The bride chose a two-piece lipstick red suit with hand-crocheted accessories for her going away ensemble. Her corsage was a two-rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride was graduated from Valley high school and attended Idaho State University. She was affiliated with the Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

The bridegroom was graduated from Valley high school and the University of Idaho. He is a member of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

A pre-nuptial Amish-style shower was given for the bride by Mrs. Olan Crandall and Mrs. Lola Knifong, cousin and aunt of the bride.

Murtaugh-Oakley Battle Could Decide A-4 Title; Shoshone Meet Resumes

Although the sixth district class A-4 basketball tournament format is arranged to meet any circumstances that could throw it into Saturday night, there appeared little doubt Tuesday that 7:30 p.m. Wednesday could well be the decider. At 6 p.m. Murtaugh and Oakley, the top rated teams and only undefeated ones remaining in the round robin schedule, collide in the feature of the five-day meet. That game steals the spotlight for the night although action will also be available in the A-3 tournament at Shoshone. The A-1 and fifth district A-4 meets rest until Thursday night.

Wednesday's schedule at Burley includes Murtaugh vs. Oakley, 6 p.m.; Rockland vs. Castleford, 7:30 p.m. and Hansen vs. Raft River, 9 p.m. At Shoshone, the four once-beaten teams go about eliminating each other. Valley meets Shoshone for the second time at 6:45 p.m. while Wendell takes on Declo at 8:30 p.m.

Thursday action continues at both sites but expands to include Minico and Burley in the A-1 loser bracket semi-finals at 8 p.m. in Rupert and three games in the sixth district A-4 at Hagerman.

At Hagerman Brunau meets Richfield at 6:30 p.m. while Bliss takes on Carey at 8 p.m. All these teams have one loss apiece and the losers will be eliminated. In between comes the championship semi-final collision between the Hagerman Pirates and Camas County Mousers.

But the spotlight for Wednesday returns to that 6 p.m. game at Burley. Both Murtaugh and Oakley have won three straight, Murtaugh having the closest shave before rallying past Castleford.

The difference in the game is found in two men. For Oakley the question will be Kent Whiteley. Whiteley, a jump-shooting crackerjack, dropped through 32 points his last time out and is caught in a bit of a slump. Murtaugh will have to contain him, although all fans know defenses are a 30-foot jump shot runs just short of impossible. Murtaugh's best chance would be for Whiteley to have an "off night."

Oakley's problem will be Bryan Ward, sometimes one of the brightest stars in the district, sometimes a junior with foul problems. At 6 feet, 1 inch, Ward carries Murtaugh's rebounding hopes against a taller Oakley crew. He can jump like a deer. His inside shooting sometimes leaves something to be desired but he is as deadly as any in the tournament. However, the loser can be consoled in that this district sends two representatives to state.

For the others in the tournament it simply is a matter of playing out the string. All have at least two defeats and would need miracles to get back in contention.

Action at Shoshone finds two of the three strongest teams by pre-tourney picks—in the loser bracket and fighting for their lives. This situation is due entirely to coach Gordon Brown and the Glenns Ferry Pilots. The Pilots dropped Wendell in the opener and the Pilots had won the Big Five conference in seasonal play. That wasn't a major upset. Then Glenns Ferry knocked off Valley. That was.

Wendell will hold a solid height advantage over Declo, which has no one over six feet tall. Valley defeated Shoshone in the first round of the tournament. The Vikings are expected to do it again.

Lazing around until 8:30 p.m. Thursday are Glenns Ferry and Kimberly, both upbeaten. The winner of that game grabs the pole position for the title and a berth in the state tournament.

St. Louis Rocks Kentucky 67-60

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 3 (AP) — St. Louis humiliated Kentucky's Southeastern conference champions 67-60 Monday night in a game in which the Billikens used their superior height to stop the Wildcats.

It was obvious from the opening minutes of play that the tall Billikens, also-rans in the Missouri Valley conference, were going to give the nationally-ranked and NCAA-bound Wildcats trouble.

Wildcats fans gasped the first two times their star Cotton Nash shot close in to the basket and towering Gil Beckmeier slammed the ball right back at him. That set the stage for play.

Shobe's Team Is Archery Winner

Richard Shobe's team was the junior winner and the Shark won the adult competition in Ot-Yo-Kwa bowman shoots last week-end.

Members of the winning junior club were: Shobe, Gregg, Lawley and Dennis Speirs. Speirs and Benny Windsor won their 100 pins while Bill Windsor and David Sears have their 125 pins.

On the adult team were Earl Carter, Jack Sears, Doris Ingard and Elaine Sanger. Joe Lehman won her 100 pin.

Club members are reminded the club set March 22 for a work party and potluck dinner at Dieter's lake. The work party will prepare the summer course for competition.

Boyer Has Northside Loop Scoring Crown

Lefty Alan Boyer, a sophomore but already a starting veteran of two years, has won the Northside conference scoring championship with Bliss' Rod Pruett coming from nowhere in the final five games to claim second. According to figures compiled by the Times-News sports department, Boyer, tallest of three brothers to play at Hagerman although he's only 5 feet, 8 inches, hit 202 points in the conference and 308 overall. Pruett was second in conference at 188 and 285.

Rebus Gooding State, made the best showing of any athlete from that school in many years. He placed third with 184 conference points. A teammate, Lance Arave, added even more luster to Gooding State's record by placing fifth with 163.

In all, 19 men hit over 100 points in the conference and 15 had 10-point or better averages.

On the scoring list were Boyer, 202 and 308; Pruett, 188 and 285; Ray Sparks, Carey, 186 and 251; Berg, 184; Jan Juenen, Richfield, 248 and 177; Lew Cook, Carey, 174 and 252; Lance Arave, 173; Lowell Ward, Richfield, 170 and 251; Mitch Perkins, Camas County, 166 and 265; Bartholomew, Camas County, 140 and 180; Dan Torres, Dietrich, 148 and 219; Lon Knowles, Dietrich, 146 and 238; Ray Carter, Carey, 144 and 190; Charles Hagerman, 130 and 214; Cinkins, Bliss, 126 and 186; Mike Engles, Hagerman, 123 and 191; and Terry White, Hagerman, 120 and 184.

Carey, which was the only team in the district to score over 100 points this year, led in offense with 805 points for a 67.1 average. Champion Camas County was second with 776 points.

Defensive Camas County took the crown with 544 points allowed, with Hagerman second at 644.

For the season, Carey had 1,140 points in 18 games for the average championship, but Camas County, playing two more teams, hit 1,148. Defensively it was still Camas County with 860 and Dietrich was 928.

Hagerman led with 179 free throw conversions in conference play against 165 for Bliss. Overall, Hagerman was tops with 283 and Dietrich second with 233. The dubious honor of committing the most fouls went to Bliss with 268 in league and 382 overall. But Dietrich was only one behind for the season.

Reins won the free throw shooting championship for the conference with 42 conversions, while Arave and Ron Knowles, Dietrich, tied just one behind. For the season, Lowell Ward, Richfield, had 61 in top Noyer, who had 60.

"Hatchet man" honors were divided between Arave and Dormier, Dietrich, with 47 each. But for the year Hagerman was easily the best or worst. Mike Engles had 73. Terry White 72 and Boyer 70. And all are Pirates.

Kansas Staters Cop Big 8 Crown

MANHATTAN, Kan., March 3 (AP) — Kansas State, led by Willie Murrell and Jeff Simons, beat Oklahoma State 63-59 in overtime Monday night and clinched its seventh Big Eight basketball crown in the past nine years as Kansas knocked off runner-up Colorado.

Murrell scored four points and 7-foot Rodger Suttner three of K-State's nine points in the overtime. Oklahoma State's only lead in the overtime was 56-55 on Gene Johnson's goal. Suttner's goal put K-State in front, then Murrell made it 59-55.

A free throw by Jeth Cooper and two more by Larry Hawk tied it at 59 with 2:30 left. Then Sammy Robinson hit a 15-foot jumper and Murrell and Suttner padded the margin with free throws.

Idaho Hangs 64-51 Loss On Montana

MISSOULA, Mont., March 3 (AP) — The Idaho Vandals pushed an 11th straight loss on the Montana Grizzlies Monday night in a slow 64-51 Big Sky conference game.

Idaho used its height and set shot skill to put the brakes on the Montana attack and had little trouble with the cellar-dwelling Grizzlies.

Chuck Kozak and Tom Morland of Idaho took charge of the backboards in hauling down 27 rebounds between them — almost as many as the entire Montana team could get.

The win gave the Vandals a Big Sky conference mark of 4-8 and left them 7-19 for the season. It was the final conference game for Idaho, Montana, with two Big Sky games left to play, has a league mark of 1-7. They are 8-15 for the season.

Montana's G. F. Fildaske, G. F. Fildaske 3-2-3, Haskins 6-7-19, Aldrich 3-6-7, Anderson 1-2-4, Farniko 4-2-3, 10 Whitfield 1-2-3, Quist 1-0-1, Kozak 6-5-17, Rice 1-1-2, Morland 6-6-15, Patterson 0-0-0, Haskins 0-0-0, Law 1-1-3, Mattila 1-3-4, Sullivan 3-1-2, Peck 2-0-1, 4, Perha 0-0-0.

Minnesota Scraps Past Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis., March 3 (AP) — Minnesota had to scrap to get by lowly Wisconsin Monday night in a Big Ten conference basketball game, but the Gophers got the job done 105-96 with the help of 28 points by Bill Davis.

The last-place Badgers were in the contest until the final eight minutes, and they led 84-83 before the Gophers pulled away for good.

Davis got a dozen of his points on free throws. Archie Clark added 22 points for the Gophers and sparked the final drive past the Badgers.

After overcoming an early Wisconsin lead, Minnesota moved to a 58-52 halftime advantage and the teams traded the lead until Minnesota was finally able to pull away.

Idaho Hangs 64-51 Loss On Montana

MISSOULA, Mont., March 3 (AP) — The Idaho Vandals pushed an 11th straight loss on the Montana Grizzlies Monday night in a slow 64-51 Big Sky conference game.

Idaho used its height and set shot skill to put the brakes on the Montana attack and had little trouble with the cellar-dwelling Grizzlies.

Chuck Kozak and Tom Morland of Idaho took charge of the backboards in hauling down 27 rebounds between them — almost as many as the entire Montana team could get.

The win gave the Vandals a Big Sky conference mark of 4-8 and left them 7-19 for the season. It was the final conference game for Idaho, Montana, with two Big Sky games left to play, has a league mark of 1-7. They are 8-15 for the season.

Montana's G. F. Fildaske, G. F. Fildaske 3-2-3, Haskins 6-7-19, Aldrich 3-6-7, Anderson 1-2-4, Farniko 4-2-3, 10 Whitfield 1-2-3, Quist 1-0-1, Kozak 6-5-17, Rice 1-1-2, Morland 6-6-15, Patterson 0-0-0, Haskins 0-0-0, Law 1-1-3, Mattila 1-3-4, Sullivan 3-1-2, Peck 2-0-1, 4, Perha 0-0-0.

Minnesota Scraps Past Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis., March 3 (AP) — Minnesota had to scrap to get by lowly Wisconsin Monday night in a Big Ten conference basketball game, but the Gophers got the job done 105-96 with the help of 28 points by Bill Davis.

The last-place Badgers were in the contest until the final eight minutes, and they led 84-83 before the Gophers pulled away for good.

Davis got a dozen of his points on free throws. Archie Clark added 22 points for the Gophers and sparked the final drive past the Badgers.

After overcoming an early Wisconsin lead, Minnesota moved to a 58-52 halftime advantage and the teams traded the lead until Minnesota was finally able to pull away.

Rudolph Averts Late Collapse, Wins Title

NEW ORLEANS, March 3 (AP) — Mason Rudolph braked his collapsing game with a 29-foot birdie putt on the 71st green Monday and won the $50,000 New Orleans open golf tournament by a stroke over Jack Nicklaus, Juan-Rodriguez and little known Glenn Stewart.

Rudolph, who started the final round with a four-stroke lead, at 208, scrambled for a final three-over par 75 and a 72-hole total of 283.

Stewart, a 20-year-old home pro from Grand Rapids, Mich., who plays only the winter tour, had a chance to take the $7,500 first prize with a reasonably easy 12-foot birdie putt on the final green.

He left the putt 2 1/2 feet short and then missed again for a bogey five, finishing with a 69 for 284.

Nicklaus, the big "Golden Bear" who holds the Masters and PGA championships, also was unable to overtake the front running Rudolph on the Lakewood Country club course Saturday by heavy overnight rain.

He fired a scatter shot 72 on the final round to tie Rodriguez, the 129-pound sensation from Puerto Rico, who finished fast with a 67 for a 284.

The final round, delayed two hours by torrential rain that left pools of water on the fairways and the greens soggy, wound up in an exciting cavalry charge which, at one time, had three players — Rudolph, Nicklaus and Stewart — tied for the lead.

Bob Charles, the left-handed British Open champion from New Zealand, finished just two strokes off the lead with a final round 70 and Paul Bondeeson, a 24-year-old former paratrooper was another stroke back at 286 after a red hot 68.

Bondeeson, knocking in six birdies on the first nine holes, became a victim of the fairways and the greens on the final two holes. He overshot the 71st hole and then missed a six foot putt. He dumped his second into a trap at the 72nd.

Rudolph, a tour regular from Clarksville, Tenn., who testifies says he wears thick-lensed glasses only to see with, led at every pole-but almost let the title get away with some shaky putting on the final round.

Enjoying a four-stroke buge, he turned the tournament into a rat-race early when he took bogies on the six and seventh holes, three-putting each. He missed a two-foot putt at the 7th.

Tension gripped Rudolph at the 13th and 14th holes where he took bogies after hooking his tee shots and leaving putts short. He missed an easy nine-foot putt for a birdie at the 16th and later said it was his timidity here which caused him to sink the long, crucial stroke on the next to last hole.

"I was determined not to leave another putt short," he said.

Even so, the chunky Tennesseean, who recently bought a new pair of glasses to correct a bad astigmatism, almost blew the tournament on the final hole.

He hooked his tee shot into the trees, hit a four-iron shot almost into an adjoining fairway and then looked up toward the final green where Stuart was putting for the possible lead.

"When Stuart missed, I decided to play it safe and I used an 8-iron," Rudolph said. The shot was about 20-feet short and he two-putted for a bogey five.

Notre Dame To Build New Field House

CHICAGO, March 3 (AP) — Plans for a five million dollar athletic and convocation center at Notre Dame university were disclosed Monday by Edward (Noose) Krause, director of athletics.

The center, which will have twin arenas, one with a capacity of 10,500 for basketball, is included in the three-year 20 million dollar development program.

The Irish have been playing basketball since 1926 in a field house with a capacity of 6,800.

Krause said the new center, to be situated east of the football stadium on the Irish campus, also will provide facilities for other intercollegiate athletics, intramural sports, a skating rink and headquarters for the athletic department.

The other mushroom-shaped arena of the center will include a fieldhouse for hockey and indoor football and baseball practice.

Krause said the new plant was expected to help in the school's search for a new basketball coach to succeed Johnny Jordan, who is resigning after the current season.

Krause said the school still is screening 150 applicants for Jordan's job. He said the coach might be selected at the time of the NCAA basketball tournament in Kansas City later this month.

Carlton

FLAVOR-FILTER

ANALYSES OF THE SMOKE OF SAMPLES OF CARLTON CIGARETTES ARE MADE PERIODICALLY BY AN INDEPENDENT RESEARCH LABORATORY. ANALYSES DURING THE MOST RECENT TEST PERIOD PRIOR TO THE MANUFACTURE OF THE CIGARETTES IN THIS PACKAGE AVERAGED:

"TAR"* 2.5 MG PER CIGARETTE
NICOTINE 0.4 MG PER CIGARETTE

*SMOKE COMPONENTS COMMONLY BUT INACCURATELY CALLED "TAR"

Product of The American Tobacco Company

See for yourself.

This is Carlton, the unusual new cigarette from The American Tobacco Company. Everything about Carlton is selected and crafted to produce this one result: [Low "tar" and nicotine, with real smoking pleasure.] It is so low in "tar" and nicotine we print test results on all packs and cartons. ■ Carlton has a distinctive blend, high porosity paper, special air vents, and a new "flavor filter" with activated charcoal which actually enriches the taste. ■ We believe you'll want to try Carlton. We also believe you will find it a new and pleasurable smoking experience. Give Carlton the time it takes you to smoke a carton. ■ See for yourself.
